on a freelance / contractor basis, starting on:

1st of October or later and working during our season for a maximum of 6 months (due to visa regulations) until 31st of March.

We offer a long-term position, provided that you show good or excellent performance. With this you can return to Cape Town every “north hemisphere winter” to South Africa’s summer and reliable wind and waves season.

The Advanced Kiteboarding Instructor will be responsible to instruct our advanced B, C and D-courses and beginner A-course kitesurfing students under the guidance and supervision of the Chief Instructor/manager on a daily basis (on wind days), in theory and practice, in a way that they are pleased and satisfied with the service (4-7 hours on wind days). Also to supervise our Assistant Instructors and Interns who may be available from time to time. We expect that all instruction will be according to the KITEKAHUNAS teaching methodology, which contains our proven and tested teaching methods, and in agreement with the Chief Instructor, and Kitekahunas' Manager(s) and Director(s), who will also help with their experience to further improve our existing curriculum and will help to skill up all instructors with our proven and tested teaching methods.

We offer several products. Please let us know which of these you can teach:

- ❑ Course-A. 3 days beginner course according to IKO curriculum.
- ❑ The A+B+C+D kitesurfing beginners crash course (15 water days) for kitesurfing beginners, up until a level to ride upwind or learning to jump (for B-, C- and D-Courses you need to be able to handle the ocean's conditions, small waves and bring a second board through the shore break to the student)
- ❑ The KITEKAHUNAS Wave Courses are for wave novices. Here students learn how to get through the shore break and how to deal with waves. In order to teach this you should be a proficient wave rider with several years of teaching experience with waves.
- ❑ The KITEKAHUNAS Wave Camps. Wave kitesurfing camps, mainly on downwinders, but also at wave spots for experienced wave riders. You should be able to wave kitesurf very well and have 3 to 5 years of teaching wave kitesurfing. We are the producers of the famous video course "KITEKAHUNAS – Learn Wave Kitesurfing" (please watch it on YouTube or our website). Please watch our wave kitesurfing tutorial videos and please let us know to what level you can teach: Basic wave kitesurfing level: Lesson 2, 3 and 4. Advanced wave kitesurfing level: Lessons 5, 6 and 10.

We work on all days, including weekends and public holidays. On no-wind-days there is only limited /no instruction and this will be the off-time for all Instructors.

What you can expect working with us:

Instruction for beginners (course A, the first 3-4 days) happen according to the IKO standard curriculum and you will mostly not be on the water yourself whilst teaching.

If you are Advanced Instructor for advanced kitesurfing B- courses, C- courses and D courses and/ or wave courses and wave camps you will mostly be on the water yourself whilst teaching, kitesurfing together with your students, connected to your students via radio communication and supervising your student.

This is the main difference to beginners' teaching: You will spend a lot of time on the water yourself kitesurfing, not at last also to demonstrate body posture, turns, moves and tricks to your students or watch them while riding together with the student to give feedback and advice via radio on the water. Kitekahunas owns a microbus, and next to kitesurfing on our beach, we regularly do downwinders, which are an integral part of our teaching methodologies, and sometimes we may visit other kitesurfing spots around Cape Town (we have more than 20 of these) - depending on training goals, student's level, wind conditions, wave conditions and interests of our students etc.

Your responsibilities will also include preparation of schooling equipment (kites, radios and helmets), help in our day-to-day school preparations (help tidying up the school/equipment room/ check through equipment, pumps, do small repairs, inform management about any damages, if necessary, etc.), daily instructor scheduling and course briefings, supervise staff time sheets, some. You will also be responsible that our teaching materials (radios and equipment, kites, other equipment) will always be in good order, and to guide our staff in this respect.

You will be working either half days (2-3.5/day) or full days (4-7h/day). If there is little wind, you will be teaching theory while waiting for the wind, or help in daily operational necessary tasks at the school (we do not pay for waiting around). If you only worked for 5h, please go to the manager and ask for extra tasks that can be done in the school to fulfil the day. On full no- wind-days you will be off.

We try to meet at least once per week to discuss new developments etc. (approx..1-2h/week), we expect you to attend these and use your under time for these (if accumulated any).

Having an international driver license is out of advantage, sometimes instructors may drive up to the lagoon together with the student (1h drive), we pay a bonus for that. Having several years of teaching experience is necessary, especially for our courses B, C, D and for our wave courses. It is out of advantage to be at least 25 years or older, we do have high profiled customers who are looking for experiences, professional, loyal and motivated instructors who provide a high level of service at any point of time.

PLEASE NOTE: When looking at the above Rand figures, keep in mind that you cannot just apply the exchange rate into EUR or USD, as the buying power of the Rand in South Africa is much higher than when you exchange it into EUR or USD and purchase in Europe or US. The offered payment is in line with the market, in fact, we are at the very upper end in this industry in Cape Town. Average salary here is about 8k-10k Rand per month.
